The same is being displayed in my application as 1.2. But I want to get display as 12. Can any one help me how can I convert float to int and display as 12 in my SQL Server application. A: You can do this in your SQL query: SELECT CAST(id AS INT) FROM MyTable Or you can do it as a before-trim of your data, for example: SELECT CAST(LEFT(id, 3) AS INT) FROM MyTable A: DECLARE @float INT=1.2 SELECT @float --output 12 Alternatively: SELECT CAST(123 AS VARCHAR(20))+ '1'+CAST(123 AS VARCHAR(20)) --output 1212 SELECT CAST(123 AS VARCHAR(10))+ '1'+CAST(123 AS VARCHAR(10)) --output 123 A: SELECT CAST (@var AS INT) + 1 The late-model Lanikai lounge chair and lounge is the perfect complement to a drink or book.
